

HippoCampus is a curated repository of nearly 6,000 multimedia learning objects from NROC and other respected providers, including Khan Academy, PhET, and NOAA.

The website is broadly used in classrooms to punctuate blended instruction and show simulations. The open site was designed as part of a worldwide effort to improve access to quality education for everyone.

- ✓ Educators can create content playlists.
- ✓ Anyone can access web-based video content created and vetted by NROC.
